The Albo-Carbon Light.

The use of it reduces your gas bill nearly one half, and it is nearly as cheap as coal oil lighting.

Softness, brilliancy and steadiness of light are obtained.

The Carbon Generators can be fitted instantly to existing gas brackets, chandeliers, &c., with ordinary skill.

The Albo-Carbon itself (a waste product from gas works) is a solid, is very cheap, is perfectly inexplosive, safe and portable.

The surprising effect of this light may be seen every night at the drug store of

LANGLEY & CO., Yates street,
Agents for this Province.

N. B.—Statistics and testimonials furnished. *

Latest Importation.

Having received by steamer Dakota a large lot of Cooking and Heating Stoves fresh from the East, we offer them for sale cheap to suit the times, and are always prepared to do all kinds of jobbing in our line, and all kinds of coppersmith's work for steamboats and ships on the most reasonable terms.

A good Tinsmith wanted.

JAMES CULLEN, Pool's Island, N. F., writes:—"I have been watching the progress of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil since its introduction to this place, and with much pleasure state that my anticipations of its success have been fully realized, it having cured me of bronchitis and soreness of the nose; while not a few of my 'rheumatic neighbors' (one old lady in particular) pronounce it to be the best article of its kind that has ever been brought before the public. Your medicine does not require any longer a sponsor, but if you wish me to act as such, I shall be only too happy to have my name connected with your prosperous child."

FIFTY dozen children's Ulsters and Dolmans; 5000 yards table linen at 50 cents; 1000 doz. linen napkins, large size; $2 per doz.; black Cashmere, the best value in town and an endless variety of lace collars. Ruffles, including the latest success. The Mitford, bear trimming, Angora goat, &c. We have an immense stock of staple and fancy goods suitable for the present season and at very much lower prices than elsewhere. As verbosity is tedious to the reader enough said.

"INDIGESTION".—You have tried everything for it and found no help. We are no doctors, but can offer a prescription that has cured very many, and it might cure you as well; it will cost but a quarter of a dollar, and can be had at any Druggists—Ask for Perry Davis' Pain-Killer. *

HACKING COUGHS lacerate the lungs and beget consumption; consumption fills our cemeteries. If nipped in the bud with Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, the destructive malady is deprived of its power. Pain is also subdued by this benign healing agent—corns, sores, frost-bites, burns and other troubles. 65

EVENING COMMERCIAL SCHOOL.—Plain and ornamental penmanship, single and double entry bookkeeping, commercial arithmetic, etc., is taught at Feaster's evening commercial school in Russell's brick, up stairs, corner Government and Johnson streets. *

MRS. J. G. ROBERTSON, of Toronto, was cured of general debility, loss of appetite, etc. She says "that life was burdensome until she used Burdock Blood Bitters." She also states that "she feels better than for years, and cannot praise Burdock Blood Bitters too much." The best medicine known for all diseases of blood, liver and kidneys. (8)

THE GREAT SOURCE of Consumption and many wasting forms of disease, is Scrofula lurking in the system. The true specific is sound in Burdock Blood Bitters; that medicine purifies the blood and builds up the enfeebled frame. (10)

BEAUTIFUL HAIR is one of the most striking and pleasing characteristics and can easily be obtained by using Cingalese Hair Renewer. Price 50 cents per bottle. For sale by all druggists. dwly

A HEARTY RECOMMENDATION.

Jacob A Empey, of Canmamore, states that he has taken Burdock Blood Bitters with great benefit in a lingering complaint and adds that he would gladly recommend it to all. (7)

A. D. WEEKS, Druggist, of Uxbridge, says he never sold any pills that gave such universal satisfaction as the National Pills, and adds, "I sincerely believe them to be the best in the market, and can safely recommend them to my customers." (12)

WEEKLY COLONIST.—Copies of The Weekly Colonist containing valuable customs statistics of the port, may be had at the publication office and the bookstores on Tuesday next. Price one bit. Every one should send a copy to their friends to convince them of the progress we are making. *

"KIND WORDS can never die," and there are none but kind words spoken regarding Hagyard's Yellow Oil, that old reliable remedy for external and internal use. It cures rheumatism, deafness, croup, sore throat, and all soreness and wounds of the flesh. (9)

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S

CHLORODYNE

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE.

Advice to Invalids—If you wish to obtain quiet, refreshing sleep, free from headache, relief from pain and anguish, to calm and assuage the weary achings of protracted disease, invigorate the nervous media, and regulate the circulating systems of the body, you will provide yourself with that marvellous remedy discovered by Dr. J. Collis Browne (late Army Medical Staff), to which he gave the name of CHLORODYNE and which is admitted by the profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered.

CHLORODYNE is the best remedy known for Coughs, Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma.

CHLORODYNE acts like a charm in Diarrhœa, and is the only specific in Cholera and Dysentery.

CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks o Epilepsy, Hysteria, Palpitation, and Spasms.

CHLORODYNE is the only palliative in Neuralgia Rheumatism, Gout, Cancer, Toothache, Meningit &c.

From Symes & Co., Pharmaceutical Chemists, Medical Hall, Simla, January 6th, 1880. To J. T. Davenport, Esq., 33, Great Russell street, Bloomsbury, London. Dear Sir,—We embrace this opportunity of congratulating you upon the wide-spread reputation this justly esteemed medicine, Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne, has earned for itself, not only in Hindostan, but all over the East. As a remedy of general utility, we much question whether a better is imported into the country, and we shall be glad to hear of its finding a place in every Anglo-Indian home. The other brands, we are happy to say, are now relegated to the native bazaars, and, judging from their sale, we fancy their sojourn there will be but evanescent. We could multiply instances ad infinitum of the extraordinary efficacy of Dr. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne in Diarrhœa and Dysentery, Spasms, Cramps, Neuralgia, the Vomiting of Pregnancy and as a general sedative, that have occurred under our personal observation during many years. In Choleraic Diarrhœa, and even in the most terrible forms of Cholera itself, we have witnessed its surprisingly controlling power. We have never used any other form of this medicine than Collis Browne's, from a firm conviction that it is decidedly the best, and also from a sense of duty we owe to the profession and the public, as we are of opinion that the substitution of any other than Collis Browne's is a DELIBERATE BREACH OF FAITH ON THE PART OF THE CHEMIST TO PRESCRIBER AND PATIENT ALIKE. We are, Sir, faithfully yours, Symes & Co., Members of the Pharm. Society of Great Britain, His Excellency the Viceroy's Chemists.

CAUTION.—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. Page Wood stated that Dr. J. Collis Browne was undoubtedly the Inventor of Chlorodyne; that the story of the defendant Freeman was deliberately untrue, which, he regretted to say, had been sworn to.—See "The Times," July 13, 1864.

Sold in bottles at 1s. 1½d., 2s. 9d., 4s 6d and 11s. each. None is genuine without the words "Dr. J Collis Browne's Chlorodyne" on the Government stamp. Overwhelming medical testimony accompanies each bottle.

Caution—Beware of Piracy and Imitations.

CANALS vs. RAILROADS.

When the railroad system was fairly introduced into England it was no doubt thought that canals would be superseded, but such was not the case; and although the system was not extended, yet the canals held their own as they were found the cheapest mode of transport for heavy goods—especially minerals—from one section of the country to the other. But in these days, when railways in England have been brought to the highest perfection and afford the swiftest communication between great manufacturing centres themselves and their adjacent seaports, it is a little strange to see the English manufacturers obliged, under the pressure of competition, to fall back upon canals and the old tramway system. Yet in the cotton manufacturing districts of Lancashire, of which Manchester is the centre, this question has come to the front under the pressure already stated. The expense of handling raw cotton after it leaves the ships at Liverpool until it is deposited in the mill at Manchester, or in some neighboring town and manufactured goods vice versa, has become a serious drawback to the trade and has been the cause of setting two separate enterprises on foot to obviate it. One of these is a ship canal direct from Manchester to Liverpool, taking advantage of the existing inland navigation by enlarging it, so as to permit ocean going vessels of the necessary tonnage to traverse it, and thus bring the cotton or other material direct from the foreign port where it is shipped, without the expense attending any intermediate reshipment to Manchester. The other scheme is a tramway or plateway with its own especial route, the rails of which are formed with a flange so as to accommodate the wheels of the ordinary lorries or low platform wagons which are used in large towns in England for transporting heavy goods. The idea is to load these wagons at the dock or at the mill at either terminus, draw them to the tramway in the suburbs by horses, and send them on to the rails where they will be made into trains and drawn by steam power at moderate rates of speed and be detached at the towns on the route they are intended for, when horses will again be used to draw them to the mill or to the dock as the case may be. Thus the material would only be handled twice going each way, whereas by the railway it would be loaded from the ship into a dray, unloaded at a railway depot into an expensive warehouse, on an expensive site and loaded again into a freight car, which after being extensively shunted and perhaps raised on an elevator to the main line would be formed into a train, and the same process would have to be gone through at the other end. The object of the ship canal and the tramway are the same then, and they are twofold. First, to handle the goods as seldom as possible. Second, to avoid the expense of costly railway apparatus generally, as the canal and tramway are far less expensive in themselves and will require no extensive stations and depots. The railway people may show some hostility to the scheme, but it is a question for the railway management of the future how far it pays to inflict the wear and obstruction of a heavy freight traffic, on a line crowded with passenger travel, not to mention an increased liability to the ruinous cost of accidents: Perhaps the Manchester ship canal and plateway, old appliances, as they are, may be the means of inaugurating a new order of things—the separation in a great measure of passenger and freight traffic on crowded lines in England at least. However this may be, the plateway is no myth as £75,000 have been provided for preliminary surveys for a series of roadways radiating from Liverpool to various manufacturing districts of Lancashire. The freight charges of a bale of cotton from Liverpool to Manchester are now stated to be greater than they were before the railroad existed, without any time being saved. The estimated cost of the plateway will be £35,000 per mile. The scheme covers a large portion of the busiest manufacturing districts of South Lancashire, 133 miles being at present projected, the estimated cost of which is £4,000,000. The preliminary surveys have already been completed, and a bill will be ready for the next session of parliament. The originator of the scheme is Mr. Alfred Holt, a steamship owner who has been working at it two years.

THE FACTIOUS OPPOSITION.

The government organ of yesterday states very plainly the terms on which the present premier could be induced to support the next government. He must have a seat in the cabinet (with a salary of course) or he will offer a bitter and unrelenting opposition to any and every measure. As for his principles—

"A merciful Providence fashioned him holler,
A purpose that he might his principles swaller."

He would enter any government, no matter what might be its policy, with as little compunction as he would put off or on his hat. Once and for all let the premier dismiss all idea of a coalition from his narrow mind and prepare to quit office. If, as intimated on Sunday, he wishes to be of some service to the country, he might be allowed to serve as a private in the ranks of the next government, and perhaps, at the end of eight or ten years—when the memory of his misdeeds shall have faded from people's minds—he might be offered a subordinate situation—say a clerkship in one of the departments. But a minister of the Crown, supported by the votes of a party he has wilfully misrepresented, he can never be.

Is This a Christian Land?

TROY, N. Y., Dec. 11.—Nettie Card, aged fifteen years, has, since the death of her mother five years ago, kept house for her father and grandfather in an isolated neighborhood several miles from Troy. Her life has been that of a drudge and her treatment inhuman. On Sunday morning she was discovered lying in the snow, sobbing: "Jesus, pity poor Net." When carried into the house it was found she had taken strychnine. Her head was frozen. In ten minutes she died in frightful agony. She had threatened suicide the day previous, and inhuman relatives volunteered to get her a razer to cut her throat. "The damned critter has taken poison," was the remark of her grandfather as he stood over the corpse. The girl was shortly to become a mother.

The Fire Department

To THE EDITOR: Your leader of the 5th instant contains several important suggestions and comments on the past, present and future efficiency of the Victoria fire department. This being a subject of vital importance to us all as citizens no effort should be lost to procure the greatest amount of protection from loss of property or life by fire.

As an old volunteer fireman I hail the power of the press to assist in any needed reform. Chinese wash houses should and must be restricted to proper limits by our city fathers. More danger exists from that rearco than all domestic or manufacturing risks in our city. You referred, Mr. Editor, to the time Victoria was proud of her volunteer fire department, and when citizens both honored and supported it by their cash and muscle. "How are mighty fallen," when an ex-chief has to implore assistance from the crowd of bystanders. I might state many reasons for the present deplorable condition of the companies, but must be brief to suit your space. I attribute one of the reasons to the extermination of a certain class of business men to rule the department, and fill, if possible, every office of remuneration and influence. No stone has been left unturned at elections to fill our companies with that malleable material. The influence of the institution has borne its fruit; the old firemen of the past were too frequently slighted, out voted, and made to feel that their advice was ignored, their experience rejected, and services not required. In many instances they have ceased to exercise the interest they once had, and do admit, with you, that the department has outlived its cash value, practical usefulness, and requires reorganization to meet the exigencies of the times.

VICTORIA, Jan. 8, 1883.

WIGGINS' GREAT STORM.

A TORONTO CLERGYMAN SUPPORTS HIS THEORY.

And Figures it out from Scripture.

Dr. Wild, a Toronto clergyman, on a recent Sunday evening, chose the text for his sermon from the 25th and 26th verses of the 21st chapter of Luke, which reads as follows:

And there shall be signs in the sun, and in the moon, and in the stars, and upon the earth distress of nations, with perplexity; the sea and the waves roaring; men's hearts failing them for fear, and for looking after those things which are coming on the earth; for the powers of heaven shall be shaken.

The Doctor said: From 1880 to 1885 our planetary system is to be put in a very singular condition—a condition it has not been in for hundreds of years. Similar conditions have been known in the years 542 and 1665. In 542 they had three planets in perihelion. In that year, according to Gibbon and other historians, one hundred million people perished. In 1665 occurred the terrible black death, which was no less destructive. The cholera plague of London commenced the year previous and swept over Europe, Asia and Africa, while in its wake followed other destructive plagues and death dealing storms. By comparing the facts of history with those of astronomy, it will be found that planetary conjunctions are related to plagues and terrible visitations of nature.

The wise ones of the earth feel the pressure of national storms coming on. Astronomers are alarmed at the condition of the heavens. We have a Canadian astronomer—Prof. E. Stone Wiggins—a man not to be despised. He is author of several scientific and astronomical works, and wrote the best essay on comets recently among 125 that were prepared. Prof. Wiggins has, as you are aware, foretold the approach of a terrible storm in March next.

In the years 542 and 1665 we find that these perihelions had three planets. What is occurring just now? Beginning with 1880 up to 1885 we will have four of our principal and one of our minor planets in perihelion. Perihelions have occurred and will occur as follows: Jupiter in autumn of 1880, Mars in the spring of 1881, Neptune in the winter of 1881, Uranus in the spring of 1882 and Saturn in the autumn of 1885. Seeing that these heavenly bodies have brought evil of a strange kind upon the earth, are we to suppose that the same thing will occur again under like and increased conditions? By all fair reasoning we naturally are. Hence, I believe that Prof. Wiggins will not be astray. We have had remarkable earthquakes, diseases, an unsettled condition of society and strange facts that are looked upon as unusual in this intellectual age. To be forewarned is to be forearmed.

Job foretells the battle of the Lord God Almighty—the coming battle of Armageddon, which cannot be far off. Job further says that the Lord has hail stored up for use, and that nature is gradually preparing for this eventful day, just as the flood was ready when wanted. Strange to say, John in Revelations corroborates this, although the writers were 1500 miles apart. The Lord has given us signs in the sun, the moon and the stars before, and why not again?

Anything can be made by God to do his bidding. He can send an army of locusts to play havoc; He can cause Sir Walter Raleigh to import potatoes to Ireland, and through the potato famine of 1844 break the back of popery in that country; He can turn a cord into a scorpion lash to drive the money-changers out of the temple. The Lord rules in the heavens and can accomplish great facts.

Look at Europe. What means the accumulation of war material by England, France and Germany and other countries? These nations perceive that a great war is near at hand, and troublous times are coming.

Sale of the Western Slope.

The announcement that the sternwheel steamboat Western Slope would be offered at public auction yesterday drew a great crowd of persons to Davies & Co.'s auction room, and great interest was evinced in the proceedings. The steamer was built about 3½ years ago, has a length of 150 feet, beam 26 5-12 feet, with a gross tonnage of 859. Her engines are 150 horse power with 20 inch cylinder and 5 foot stroke. The sale was made by order of the mortgagees in possession. The auctioneer was Mr. Joshua Davies, who having stated the terms of sale, called for bids. There was an instant pause and then H. Tilton offered $6000. A bid of $7000 followed; then came, like a discharge of small arms, $8000, $9000, $10,000, and $11,000. The bidders paused to take breath and started afresh with $11,500, $12,000, $13,000, $13,500, $13,750. There was another pause and some one went .50 better making it even money. Then $14,000, $14,100, and so on, by $50 and $100 bids until $16,400 was reached. Every one thought that that offer would take the boat; but the insinuating auctioneer squeezed another $50 out of Mr. Baker, M. P., which was immediately covered by H. Tilton with a bid of $16,500, at which figure the vessel was knocked down. The auctioneer asked who is the purchaser, when the name of Capt. J. Irving was given and received with applause. The price is considered good, and yet in view of the great prospective increase in the carrying trade and the suitableness of the steamer she is regarded by knowing ones as a great bargain. The principal bidders were Capt. Irving, Capt. Urquhart, Mr. Heywood, Mr. Lipsett, Mr. Howard Tilton and Mr. Baker, M. P. Thirty-three minutes were consumed from the time of the first bid until the last.

Unlucky Baldwin's Assailant.

There would seem to have been an error in the statement made on the authority of the Puget Sound paper that Fanny Baldwin, the assailant of E. J. Baldwin, had been the inmate of an improper house in Victoria. Some weeks ago she—or, rather a young American woman bearing the same name—came to Victoria. It is said that for a day or two she was an inmate of the convent school from which she escaped. Either before or after this event she obtained quarters in a highly respectable boarding house. It was seen that she labored under a severe mental hallucination, her idiosyncrasy being that she was married to a young merchant of Seattle. She conversed wildly on this subject; but, so far as can be ascertained, she was rational on all other matters, and her conduct was irreproachable. Chief of Police O'Connor acting under instruction from her friends, sent her back to them at Tacoma and nothing more was heard of her until the receipt of the news that she had shot Lucky Baldwin.

Civic Nominations

The returning officer, W. K. Bull, Esq., received nominations yesterday at the City Hall from 12 m. to 2 p. m. for mayor and councillors for the incoming municipal year. At the close of the time, the following candidates had been only nominated:

FOR MAYOR.

C. E. Redfern, J. W. Carey.

COUNCILLORS.

YATES STREET WARD—Hy. Gribble, J. Wrigleworth, Louis Vigelius, James Fell, John Boyd.

JOHNSON STREET WARD—John Kinsman, Wm. Jensen, David Dale, J. J. Russell, Maurice Humber.

JAMES BAY WARD—Walter Shears, Alex. Wilson, W. A. Franklin, R. Roberts.

At the close of the nominations a large number of ratepayers were present. His worship the mayor was moved to the chair. He remarked that it was then in order for the candidates to address the electors.

On motion of Mr. E. C. Baker, M. P., it was carried that the meeting adjourn to the council room up-stairs.

A discussion arose as to the advisability of holding a meeting in what was designated an ice-house or again going below to the police courtroom. It was finally decided that the meeting should go on in the council chamber.

J. W. Carey was first called on to address the meeting. His object in being a candidate for the mayoralty was to advance the health, the cleanliness and the good government of the city. He was glad to find that the interest in municipal elections was increasing from year to year. The great question for the next council to deal with was that of sewerage. Deep sewerage would be very costly and he thought surface drainage would for the present be advisable. He would advocate, if elected, a system of surveys, etc., for sewerage and then he would have the whole thing submitted to the ratepayers so that they might know what it was going to cost. One-fifth of the present revenue, he said, was absorbed before anything was available for improvements. Bridges were next referred to, as was also Beacon Hill Park. The fire department was spoken of and the long and excellent services rendered by the department in the past were eulogised. If there was anything wrong in that department it was the fault of the council. With regard to Yates street, his opinion was unaltered. He was in favor of opening up that street now as he was last year. [Applause.]

Mr. C. E. Redfern remarked that this was the third time he had appeared before the ratepayers, having served two years in the council. He was now a candidate for the highest office in the gift of the people. He did not propose to canvass, as that was a direct violation of the spirit of the Ballot Act. He did not think there was much to carp at in the conduct of the council for the past year. The Yates street opening should have been settled without going to law and unnecessary work, in his opinion, had been done on Douglas street. Financial matters were then referred to briefly. With regard to drainage, he would advocate a thorough system of deep sewerage, but proper surveys should first be made as to the right direction to carry sewerage. He was glad to find such an improvement in the water works finances. Some little enquiry was certainly necessary into the management of the fire department. The corporation ought to have entire control over the issuing of liquor licenses. He was opposed to the granting of any more liquor licenses except to new hotels. If elected he would endeavor to advance the best interests of the city as by so doing he would be advancing his own.

In reply to Mr. Boyd, Mr. Redfern said that he would not advocate expenditure on Beacon Hill if the money was necessary for more desirable improvements in this city. [Applause.]

Mr. Boyd remarked that he had been badly handled in the last council but he was going to try it again. He was the means of getting the liquor licenses from the government and was the first to advocate a system of sewerage. He was in favor of spending $1000 out of $85,000 revenue on Beacon Hill and either conveying the water to the top of it or digging an artesian well. Having been deprived of the chairmanship of the finance committee he was unable to explain the committee's report. The water works dam and the lake ought to be improved by carting away vegetable matter that had been accumulating there. He was in favor of giving the council entire control of the liquor licenses. With regards to opening up of Yates street, he was entirely in favor of it, and he would also open up Johnson street. [Applause.]

Mr. Fell thought he could be of more service in the council than as mayor and had accordingly offered for Yates street ward. He was in favor of a proper system of sewerage. A system might have been inaugurated years ago, and if necessary money might have been borrowed for that purpose. A good deal of money had been squandered in many ways during past years. He was in favor of opening up streets, but they were not absolutely necessary. If it was required to open up streets, the owners that would be benefitted by such openings should pay for them. Fort street was quite able to carry all the traffic at present. Sewerage was of more importance than opening up streets. He did not think water, gas, etc., should produce a revenue. As soon as the water works had paid for themselves water should be supplied to the people at the lowest possible cost. Water and light ought to be as free as possible. He then explained his connection with the school reserve, and said he had rented it at $15 a year. (A voice—"Did you pay for it?") He would satisfy that party about such a question anywhere or any how. [Laughter.] Mr. Nicholson, when he was secretary to the trustee board, examined the old records and had found that five years rent was due and he thought that capital might be made out of it. That back rent had been remitted when he had to put up fences at the time the new school building was erected.

Time was here limited to ten minutes for each speaker, as there were twelve candidates yet to address the meeting.

Mr. H. Gribble had been a resident in this city for 25 years, and if the ratepayers saw fit to elect him he would do his duty by the city and by Yates street ward.

Mr. L. Vigelius was received with applause. He did not think he required any introduction as he had served already two years in the council. If again elected he would do his duty to the best of his ability.

Mr. Wrigleworth remarked that for the third time he appeared before the electors in connection with the Council. He advocated the question of sewerage 12 months ago and was still in favor of making preparation for a good system by offering a large bonus for the best system that can be secured. Yates street ward had had only $900 spent on it while the other wards had spent some $8000 each. As a member of the street committee he had not done so much perhaps in this respect as as he ought to have done. The water works required further improvement by filtering water used for domestic purposes only and allowing water for washing ship's decks, &c., to be brought down without being filtered. The fire limits bylaw was then referred to and the opinion advanced that it was ahead of time and would retard improvements. Some change was needed in the fire department or the citizens might wake up some fine morning and find the city in ashes. The department ought to be entirely under the control of the council. Licences also ought to be under the entire control of the council. He had always advocated the opening up of Yates street and the ratepayers would do well to reject all candidates that had no property in the ward.

Mr. Dale was the first candidate on the list for Johnson street ward. He was a candidate for that ward several years ago and was defeated. He would now offer again. Former candidates had no axes to grind but he had a little one, however, that he wanted ground. (Laughter.) The holding of the fair at Cadboro Bay was deprecated. He would work faithfully and independently if elected.

Mr. M. Humber had been trying to put a few ideas together but he could not do it, (laughter.) This was the fifth time that he had offered and he had been four times defeated, (Laughter,) but he was an Englishman and would stick to it. Some of the former candidates didn't know anything about the sewerage matter. To build sewers bricks were required and if he was elected he would be debarred from selling them. (Laughter.) He was in favor of cheap water, and a Sunday law. He believed that he was going to be elected this time for Johnson street ward. (Laughter.)

In reply to a question he was not in favor of employing Chinamen on streets if white men could be obtained. He was not a Chinaman nor a friend of Chinamen. (Laughter.) He was so accustomed to defeat that another one would not hurt him. In fact he rather liked that sort of thing. (Laughter and applause.)

Mr. Jensen not being present Mr. Kinsman was the next speaker called upon. As an old councillor he would be expected to say something but would be brief. The question of sewerage was an important one but to carry out a system it would be very costly. If it could be done without being too expensive he would support such a measure. He had always done his duty in the council in the past and if reelected he would still try to do the best he could. (Applause.)

Mr. J. J. Russell if elected would ask the local government to erect a primary school in Johnson street ward. He censured the Police Magistrate for letting Chinamen go that had been caught with stolen goods in their possession. Chinamen had been let go for infractions of the sanitary by law too. He believed in socking it to them. (Laughter and applause.) The local government were also censured for granting a bonus for a cotton mill, taking no means whatever to make the thing known. Wash houses ought to be driven beyond a certain limit in the city. (Applause.) Yates street ought to be opened up so ought Johnson and Pandora.

Messrs. Franklin and Roberts not being present, Mr. Shears for James Bay ward was next called upon. He said he had done his best during the year, and if elected would still do all he could to further the best interests of the city. He would not canvass however, as he believed that any candidate who canvassed should be put in the chaingang for a term, (applause and laughter). The finances of the city were then referred to and explained. On the fire department question there certainly required some rearrangement, and if elected he would move for a committee of the council to meet a committee of the fire department and then see if something could not be done to improve the department. A system of sewerage ought to be established and he would advocate a proper survey and if necessary the borrowing of a loan for sewerage purposes. The council ought to be increased to nine members, and he would try to get that measure passed.

Mr. A. Wilson remarked on the part he had taken in last year's council and eulogized the retiring mayor and council, on the harmony that had existed. Some matters had been opposed by him, such as the extension of Rupert street, the spending of money on Beacon Hill illegally, and the opening up of Yates street and the desecration of the school reserve. Economising the water supply by use of meters was a matter that had been carried to a successful issue, and on this question he took credit for rendering assistance. He hoped that before long the citizens would have the water so cheap that it would not be felt a tax, while those who made money out of the water should pay for it. The electric light question was referred to as a matter for the new council to deal with, but it was still more or less an experiment in other countries. Rock crusher and road roller, and some other matters were likewise touched upon.

After a vote of thanks to the mayor the meeting adjourned.

The following are the proposers and seconders of the several candidates:

FOR BURRARD INLET.—This morning the steamer Maude will leave Spratt's wharf for Burrard Inlet.

Three Fine Ships.

From December 21st to January 5th three British sailing vessels arrived at this port laden with English goods. Two came from London and one from Liverpool. The first to arrive was the barque Rover of the Seas, Capt. Gaudin, from London, which port she left on the 6th August and reached here on 21st December, 135 days. On the 22d December the ship Grace Gibson, Captain Sibbett, reached port, having sailed from Liverpool on 22d July, 152 days. The third arrival was the H. B. Co.'s barque Prince Rupert, Capt. Shaw. She left London on the 2d August and arrived in this port on the 5th inst., 155 days. The two first-named vessels are consigned to Welch, Rithet & Co. and the latter to the H. B. Co. and all bring valuable cargoes of general merchandise.

The Rover of the Seas is a small barque of 214 tons register, built at Aberdeen in 1859, is classed A1 at Lloyds, and is in all respects a staunch, trim and comfortable vessel. That her sailing qualities are first-class her recent trip from London fully demonstrates. She is owned by Capt. W. Spring and Capt. Gaudin.

The iron ship Grace Gibson, Capt. Sibbet, is 540 tons register, 15 years old and was built at Glasgow. She is a model of neatness and finish, everything below and aloft is of the best material. Her decks are teak and her handsome, expensively fitted and roomy cabins are of teak and birdeye maple. Her classification at Lloyds is the highest possible, and she belongs to the owners of the White Star line of steamships plying between Liverpool and New York.

The H. B. Co.'s barque Prince Rupert is well known at this port, having made annual trips between London and Victoria for a number of years past. She is commanded by Capt. Shaw, who has made three successful voyages in the vessel. She is an excellent carrier and a swift sailer. Built at Aberdeen in 1859, she is apparently as sound and serviceable as when first launched. Her classification at Lloyds is A1. Her cargo opened up yesterday in as good order as when put on board in the West India docks. This barque is a pattern of cleanliness. From stem to stern it would be difficult to discover a speck of dirt or an article out of its proper place. The cabins are small but very pretty and neat.

Marine

Barque Agate, from Sutton's mill, Cowichan, was spoken off Cape Henry, Nov. 17. She is bound for South Africa.

The new provincial-built barque Nanaimo, Capt. Dodd, sailed yesterday for San Francisco. She has 737 tons of Wellington coal as cargo. As this is the first vessel of her rig and class that has been built in the province, a peculiar interest attaches to her, and news of her arrival at San Francisco will be eagerly waited for.

The barque Oswingo, which arrived here a short time ago from Shanghai, seeking, cleared yesterday for Burrard Inlet.

SUPREME COURT.

(Before Sir M. B. Begbie, C. J.)

IN CHAMBERS.

Esquimalt Licensing Board vs. S. Jones. In this case Mr. A. E. B. Davie for the plaintiffs applied for a writ of certiorari, but was informed by the Chief Justice that it appeared to him that there were no grounds for granting it. He would, however, issue a writ nisi returnable before the full court if the learned counsel wished.

Mr. Davie replied that he would consult his clients as to whether the rule should be issued or not.

Mr. E. Johnson for defendant.

In the suit Selleck vs. Gaylor, before Hon Justice Crease, the name of the Chief Commissioner of L. and W. was substituted for that of the defendant.

THE "SCOTSMAN" ON LORD LORNE'S SPEECH

AT THE CIVIC BANQUET

The Flower and Fruit of Colonization

[Scotsman, Nov. 22.]

Mr. Gillen shows us how the old country sends its sap into younger communities and gains by the loss; the Marquis of Lorne presents us with the perfect flower and fruit of colonization as it is found in British Columbia. His Excellency has been delighted with his reception on the Pacific coast of the Dominion; it would be wonderful indeed if the British Columbians were not delighted with his speech. He praised the land—its splendid harbors—its magnificent forests, its vast mineral resources, its commanding position for trade, its grand Alpine scenery. He praised the people—their energy and industry, and the great progress they have already made in the face of physical difficulties and keen competition. He had pleasant things to say of its present, and hopeful things to predict of its future. And not only was this gracefully and eloquently spoken, but it was true. British Columbia, there can be no question, has a great career before it, if its children do their duty, as there is no reason to doubt they will. The Canadian Pacific railway is making rapid progress across the plains towards the mountain backbone of the continent. Passes have just been surveyed that will enable the engineering difficulties of the work to be overcome at less cost of time and money than had been expected. In a few years the provinces of the Canadian Dominion will be linked together by the iron roadway which will unite the two sides of the continent, and open a market for the products of the Pacific coast. That event will be one of transcendent importance for the people of British Columbia. They have done nobly with the opportunities they have had; and the Marquis of Lorne points out to their credit that a community of 20,000 white men have contributed annually a million of dollars to the taxation of the country. But they must now prepare to fill a more prominent place on the stage of history. For that purpose Lord Lorne gives them good advice. The climate and the resources of the province differ materially from those of the countries to the east. The atmosphere is too moist, and the ground too mountainous for the successful growing of grain; but in their forests, their coal measures, and the fish of their rivers the colonists have almost unlimited sources of wealth, in which their neighbors are wanting. They can grow fruits profitably; they can even emulate Switzerland and Scotland, and coin money out of the picturesque and sublime scenery of their snow-covered peaks and green valleys. For the other provinces of Canada, and for the mother country, the opening of the Canadian Pacific railway will be an event of great significance. For one thing, it will help to the decision of the problem which certain American politicians have regarded with much curiosity, and it will tend in a direction contrary to their hopes. It will knit the Pacific closer to the Atlantic, and the Canadian Dominion closer to the British empire. According to statisticians and statesmen, the great northwest is to be the residuary legatee of the United States when that country in its turn begins to be fully peopled, and to part with its surplus population. We are now approaching within measurable distance of that time, and a Canadian Pacific railway will bring it appreciably nearer.

Eastern Canada

HAMILTON, Dec. 20.—The storm which raged in various parts of the Dominion last Thursday was one of the severest that has visited the country for years, and one of the most tragic events reported in connection with it occurred in the township of Beverly. On that morning William and Thomas McQuillan, brothers, residing in the the Gore of Puslinch, went to Galt. In the evening a third brother, Samuel, fearing that the former two might lose their way in the terrible storm which was raging, started out on the road to meet them and render them assistance if necessary. Being on foot and darkness coming on he lost his way, and sad to relate, he perished. His body was found near Clyde, in Beverly. The other brothers were also discovered on the road next morning, both alive, but one of them with his legs and feet so badly frozen that it is feared amputation will be necessary.

LONDON, Dec. 11.—Last evening, as a woman was making her way through the crowd at the Salvation Army gathering in the city hall, she observed three young men jostling roughly beside her and requested them to desist. Instead of acceding to the appeal, they began crowding all the more, and gave her a violent shove. She promptly took the law in her own hands, slapped one of the roughs sharply in the face, and with a straight blow from the shoulder hit another on the nose, drawing blood. This appeared to have the desired effect, and the disturbance ceased.

Balking a Prince.

Speaking of the notoriety which the pronunciamento of the Prince of Wales, regarding her beauty, has won for Mrs. Langtry, the New York correspondent of the Philadelphia Record says: "If Mr. Langtry had done as one of his countrymen similarly provoked did, he would have saved himself many bitter moments. This man I speak of was married to a very pretty American woman. The Prince of Wales met her, called her a beauty, and asked for an introduction, which under the circumstances could not be refused. He had a pleasant chat with her and requested the privilege of calling at her house at a certain time. The request was granted, but the husband, knowing what it meant—that his wife would soon be enrolled in the ranks of professed beauties—prepared himself for the attack. He could not refuse his prince, but he must do something to prevent the horrible consequences. He said nothing but he thought out a plan. The hour and the prince arrived, and to the extreme annoyance of H. R. H. he found a canopy stretched across the street and a large assemblage inside awaiting his arrival. The band played and refreshments were served, and he was received en prince. This was not at all what he wanted. He had anticipated a pleasant tete-a-tete over a cup of tea, but he was too much of a gentleman to express his disappointment. He never came again, however, and that was just what the husband wanted."

Jam from Turnips and Tar.

(London Times.)

According to the correspondent of a trade journal, it is a mistake to suppose that fruit is absolutely necessary to the manufacture of preserves. He describes a visit to a large jam-producing factory, in which he found that the work was being bravely carried on without the aid of fruit at all. Jams of various kinds were being produced before his eyes—currant, plum, strawberry, apricot, raspberry and gooseberry. Yet neither currant, plum, strawberry, apricot, raspberry nor gooseberry was in the building. Turnips served the purpose of the fruit. The flavoring matter was extracted from coal-tar, and the resemblance to raspberry and strawberry jam was further produced by mixing the boiling compound with small seeds of some cheap innocuous herb. A common form of sugar is used, and this is the only honest ingredient of the mess. These preserves are offered as made from "this season's fruit."

The Richest Mine in the World.

To the westward of the Surrey hills, in Tasmania, in the County Russell, and at a distance of 100 miles from Launceston, lies Mount Bischoff, and here a few adventurers found tin in 1872. A company was formed and workings were commenced. An eminent mineralogist reported that the mountain was almost a solid mass of tin, the ore yielding from 70 to 80 per cent of pure metal. Large smelting works were erected at Launceston, and in the year 1876 1000 tons of tin were raised. Twenty-five shillings only have been paid upon each share, but the present market price is from £60 to £69, the company during the last four years having paid a dividend every two months of 10 shillings per share. A fortunate gentleman in Hobart, who expended £875 in the purchase of 700 shares in 1875, now rejoices in the receipt of £2,100 a year as the income of his investment.

From Prayer-meeting to Death.

ALTOONA, Pa., Dec. 15.—Last night, two miles east of here, Parks Lermine and his two sisters, Flora and Alice, returning from prayer-meeting on the railroad track, stepped off the track to avoid a passing train, and were killed by an engine on the other track. All were young and unmarried.

VICTORIA, B. C., 5th January, 1883.

His Worship the Mayor and City Councillors:

GENTLEMEN,—Herewith I beg to hand you Balance Sheet, Statement of Cash Assets and Liabilities and Cash Statement of Receipts and Expenditure for the year ending 31st December, 1882; also, Balance Sheet, Statement of Revenue collected and disbursed, and Interest and Sinking Fund Account of Victoria Water Works. These accounts will explain themselves, and I need only call your attention to one item in the Corporation Cash Statement, viz: Street Lighting, the actual amount paid during the year being $3133 98. This sum has to be increased $645, being the amount due and placed to credit of the Gas Co. for the balance of the year, making the total street lighting for the year $3778 98.

I am much pleased to report that the present Council show a balance of $3744 81 Cash Assets over Liabilities. This has, I believe, not occurred for many years. The total gain during the year is as follows:

Balance Cash Liabilities over Assets 31st Dec., 1881	$4,126 12
Balance Cash Assets over Liabilities 31st Dec., 1882	3,744 81
Total gain made during the year	$7,870 93

In conclusion, I may add that the only claims that might be called outstanding, to go against this gain, will be the Rock Crusher ordered from England and a contract let to Willis Bond of $140.

I remain, Gentlemen, your obedient servant,
JAMES D. ROBINSON, Auditor.
